

How to: Make the Ludlow Your Own

When it comes to great food, presentation counts. That's why we asked four New York culinary stars to share their unique recipes for spicing up our famous Ludlow suits.

Ludlow suits fit me perfectly right off the rack without any tailoring, so that gives me the freedom to pick up fabrics with a little more character and attitude. I've probably got 12 different Ludlow suits at this point. With tweed I like to play into the history of the fabric and wear it with other styles that have a classic British feel to them.
